Newsletter Spring 2009

Welcome to the Spring Topaz Spirits Newsletter! I would like to be announcing the birth of Grandbaby Olivia Marie, however she is still waiting and it will be any day now! Exciting times!

A couple of weeks ago, a friend purchased a Mozambique Lemurian and was interested in a Blue Tara about the same size. When I buy stock from my supplier, I will leave the crystals wrapped until I need them, so I tend to draw stock in layers. Because he wanted a specific size, I had to unwrap a couple of layers before I found the one for him. And in the process, there was one (errr ... two) who immediately began chattering in my hand. The more craggy one called herself "Emmoral" and messages came fast and furious. Following is the first channeling through her:

"It is early morning and the first rays of the sun are piercing the horizon with an eerie haze with rays pierced through it like fingers. I feel the cool breeze from the ocean upon my face and savor its salty musk. This is a day that has been foretold, auspicious in its unfolding and yet, before this day's sun sets, life as we know it will forever change. Many have left, but I have chosen to remain here in my home, embracing the sea and bidding farewell to my beloved Lemuria ...

Our oracles have predicted this for millennia, so it is something our Peoples have long known and prepared for. Every ship that sought out the peace and beauty of Lemuria left with a Lemurian elder and at least one family to ensure that some remnant of our culture would survive us. This was to ensure that all that we have known and attained would be known by the world.

I am Emmoral, Elder and High Priestess. Otshoh and Shialohh, both Elders, have remained with me, three in service. In the final days, we were to combine our energies and infuse crystals throughout the world with our records. We have discovered that our energies can be focused and channeled such that the crystalline structure accepts the information. Since we knew not where our People would settle or who would call forth the Lemurian energies in the future, we seeded these records all over the Earth and each type bears unique knowledge.

When the time is right for the Lemurian knowledge to re-emerge, these crystals shall awaken and make themselves known to specific souls who share Lemurian roots. We know that these roots will be diluted through many millennia, but knowledge such as this is timeless. There will be a quickening and a definite call ... this is the Time of Awakening. People will feel the pull and may not know why or how to respond, but will receive instruction. Certain of them will lead the way and others will be aware of them, some in their lifetimes and others after their passing when they will work from the Ethereal Realm.

It is imperative to the security of the world at the Time of the Awakening, to embrace the Lemurian principles. It will bring a balance and stability to a planet spinning out of control from its own greed, avarice and false values. These will not be difficult things, but will be critical. The years will have brought great knowledge, but these records will instill great wisdom.

May your Hearts and minds be open and the Peace and Love of Lemuria be in your Spirit.”

Now, I want to add one thing more. As I worked with Emmoral, she began to clear! This last lot of Blue Tara are included with olenite, a clear and boron-rich tourmaline that glitters inside. To my utter amazement, large numbers of quartz manifestors appeared and the white film that seems to be on many of these quartz, disappeared! Like the Moz, there are very personal crystals with very personal messages for their rightful Keepers.

Since this “opening” or initiation, more and more Lemurian crystals are emerging and the messages are astounding. On a whim, a friend and I went on a Google search and found a domain for sale, leumurians.com. The domain is now purchased and through the summer, I will be populating the pages to replace the ads now on it that are a vestige from the original owner. The site will be dedicated to JaneAnn Dow (who is most definitely behind all of this from the other side) and will be hopefully filled with all things Lemurian ... as the crystals dictate. I would like to invite anyone with Lemurian channelings to contribute and these will all be included (with appropriate credits).

This is a very exciting time and a very exciting step and I cannot wait to share it all with you!

In peace and love –

Jan
